

Personal

Conversation 1: CY

I will set up the dialogue around a fun activity (baking cookies) at her place during the afternoon. We will have a face to face conversation. From previous assignments I bring the idea of not wanting to be perfect. I will verify my believe by directly asking her and, if needed, ask follow-up questions. I will describe my expectations by telling them directly. New ideas will be discovered by writing down notes and reflecting on them shortly after the conversation.

Conversation 2: DS

I will set up the dialogue around dinner at my place during the evening. We will have a face to face conversation. From previous assignments I bring the idea of understanding there is more to life than just study/work. I will verify my believes by directly asking him and, if needed, ask follow-up questions. I will describe my expectations by telling them directly. New ideas will be discovered by writing down notes and reflecting on them shortly after the conversation.

Community

Conversation 1: MV

I will set up the dialogue after our Scout meeting in the afternoon. We will have a face to face conversation. From previous assignments I bring the idea of not wanting to be perfect. I will verify my believes by directly asking him and, if needed, ask follow-up questions. I will describe my expectations by telling them directly. New ideas will be discovered by writing down notes and reflecting on them shortly after the conversation.

Conversation 1: MK

I will set up the dialogue after our Scout meeting in the afternoon (not the same meeting as the other conversation). We will have a face to face conversation. From previous assignments I bring the idea of not wanting to be perfect. I will verify my believes by directly asking her and, if needed, ask follow-up questions. I will describe my expectations by telling them directly. New ideas will be discovered by writing down notes and reflecting on them shortly after the conversation.

Work/study

Being currently unemployed and also not in education or training (besides this MOOC) I will not be able to have conversations in this field.
